Penguin Loves Mev In the UK

The Joy of Moving Home

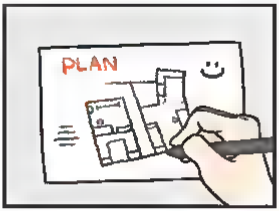
The joy is that I have a chance to make a new place my home

All of the room shapes and the arrangement of the furniture will be different.

And as the new flat is not a rented flat,. .

.. I can do anything I want.
That made me feel so excited.



So I drew the flat with furniture in the rooms on a piece of paper over and over again whenever I was free.

My head was filled with thoughts about how to decorate our new home.

Mev!
Do you want to plan how to arrange our rooms together?
Argh, Penguin. We did that a few days ago and you want to do it again? I'm tired of it.

But Mev didn't look as though he was as exited as me  It made me feel sad but .

I knew that I couldn't force him to be exited just because I was excited

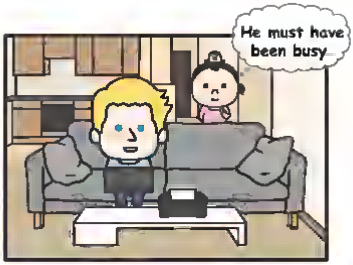
I thought
I shouldn't feel bad about it

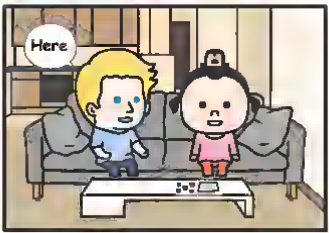
The next day.

Mev got back home a bit later than usual

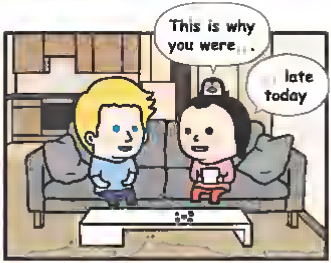


As soon as he got back home,
he started to work hard on his computer,
I decided to wait for him to finish
and did my work as well.

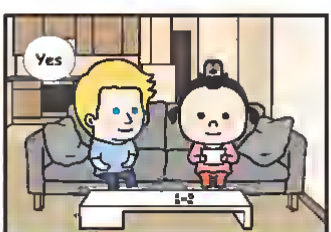
About an hour later,
Mev asked me to come out of the room.



There was something on the coffee toble.



This is why you were... late today

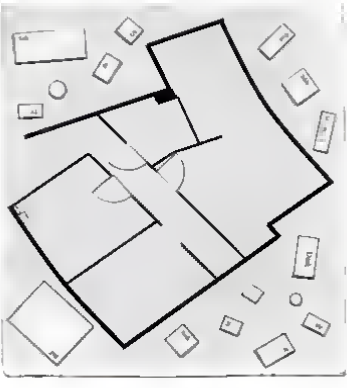


Yes

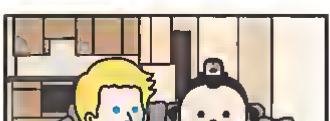
First, he measured all of new rooms and then the furniture

Then he drew a plan with furniture to scale. He printed them out, stuck them on card and then cut them out.

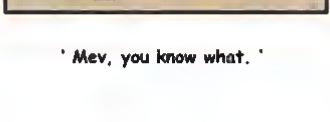
He also put white tack on the back of the furniture pieces so I could re-arrange them easily



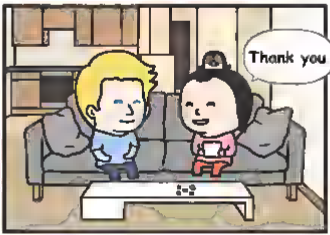
This was the scale plan af the flat that he had made for me.



' Mev, you know what. '



' You're a very good man. '



Thank you
